This map arises from the Capital Regional District (CRD) Regional Transportation Plan which aims to make cycling an appealing, safe, convenient and viable travel option for residents and visitors.

First Nations Territorial Acknowledgement

The CRD respectfully acknowledges the Indigenous peoples whose homelands the cycling trails and lanes in this map traverse. Cyclists will be riding in the territories of lək̓ʷəŋən speaking peoples, known as the Songhees and x̱wsep̱əm (Esquimalt) Nations, as well as the WSANEĆ Nations, known today as BOKECEN (Pauquachin), WJOLELP (Tsartlip), STAUTW (Tsawout), WSIKEM (Tseycum) and MÅLEXEL (Malahat). On the Westshore, cyclists will pass through the lands of Sc'ianew (Beecher Bay) and T'Sou-ke, as they venture out toward Pacheedaht lands.

Ride Safely

Follow the rules of the road; cyclists have the same rights and responsibilities as drivers. The Motor Vehicle Act and local government bylaws apply to cyclists too. Remember:

- Focus on the road
- Observe all traffic laws
- Ride in a straight line at speeds safe for the conditions
- Pass other vehicles slowly (including cyclists & parked vehicles) allowing at least 1.5 metres of space
- Check and yield before making a turn
- Look while changing lanes and for opening vehicle doors
- Communicate with signals and eye contact
- Cooperate and show mutual respect
- Use hand signals

Regional Trail Etiquette

When riding on regional trails, be sure to slow down to yield to pedestrians and horses, alert others before passing, pass only when adequate space exists for oncoming traffic, leave 1 metre around pedestrians and horses, and be visible with lights and reflective clothing.

Water Fountains on Trails

There are many water fountains along the regional trail system. CRD Regional Trail water fountains are seasonal and operate from April to October. The water comes from the Regional Water Supply System.

BC Transit Bike & Ride

Most buses are equipped with two bike racks. E-bikes are only allowed on racks if they weigh less than 55 lbs and the battery is removed. On community shuttles, racks are only available during daylight hours. Bike lockers are available at select locations.
